ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

In the fall of the year, 1946, this book, the 1947 Cardinal, was still a pipe dream. The now worldly staff was still green, and everyone wandered in a daze, still dreaming of summer fun. All too soon, the days began slipping by, and the months wandered into winter. Like a slap of cold water, we realized that the yearbook was still in our minds, not on paper. Tightening our belts, we settled down for a long siege. Elections came first. Editor was chosen, and the staff split up into five different sections. The opening section was worked out by the editor and valuable Jackie Jenkins. Joyce Lusk and Roberta Orr shared honors as senior class section editors as did Rosanna Smith and Beverly Saunders on the undergraduate section. The clever and original ideas displayed in the campus section were the children of Bette Schoff and her hard working campus four: Barbara Fry, Joann Gingles, Diane Criswell, and Catharine Weskirchen. Boys' sports section presented a high wall of difficulties, but greenhorn Frank "The Artist" Ray, Ralph Nieblas, and Maxine Funk mounted it with ease. Jolly Julie Gilbert and Joyce Phegley combined to produce a well planned girls' sports section. Our "gay" night life and activities were worked on by Marilyn Wittersheim and Sue Dawson. Molly Madden, Betty Osborne, Joan Archer, and Pat McNeilly all cooperated to put forth a new and original ad section. Making us especially proud were our three student photographers, Josh Wilson, Bill Harrison, and Jim Kemp, who spent hours of their spare time in the dark room. Overseeing all, Miss Marjorie Jones put forth a tremendous amount of toil. For outside help we would like to thank Mr. Butler, whose precious pictures of 1887 Whittier are shown in this book; Mr. Andy Cummings of Barton's studio for the fine senior pictures; Mr. Peterson of Peterson's Engraving Company for the prompt return of engravings; Mrs. Owens of the Stationers Corporation; and Mr. Van Velzer and the boys of the Cardinal Print Shop. All of these people were responsible for your book. Each one was a necessary part of an otherwise incomplete whole. For them, I would like to extend the wish that you have enjoyed reading the book as much as they have enjoyed working on it.

DEDICATION

In Retrospect . . . . our theme for this 1947 Cardinal. With this theme, we honor our city of Whittier, whose gala Diamond Jubilee of 1947 celebrated sixty years of progress. Looking back through these sixty years, we can contrast the old with the new; yet still find an unchanged Whittier.

In 1887 a sheet, waved from a pepper tree at the Hunnicutt home, could be seen from the center of Los Angeles. The land was flat and unsettled but rose slowly to the hills and the Quaker settlement of Whittier. The main thoroughfares were dirt roads—Painter, Greenleaf, Philadelphia. Whittier College's Founders' Hall stood high on its hill, overlooking the town.

Now, Whittier is a prosperous, growing community. The high school and college are excellent citadels of learning; the business section is modernized and still growing, and comfortable homes have covered Whittier's farm lands.

Los Angeles has become a noisy metropolis; neighboring towns have moved closer; yet to us Whittier still remains apart; it is still "our town." To Whittier, we owe our heritage. To Whittier, we dedicate this book, the 1947 Cardinal.

BOB TRANQUADA

Capably wielding the gavel over all Associated Student Body activities of the past year, Bob Tranquada has proved to be one of our most outstanding Student Body presidents of all time. Far above the average in scholastic work, he has shown himself outstanding in the social and athletic field. Earl Schmidt, chosen by you to serve as your vice-president, has fulfilled his office to the fullest extent and promises to be a senior to be proud of. The many, many duties of secretary were carried out by Jean Nordstrom, prominent member of the senior class, with Nancy Brand, as Publicity Chairman, producing all advertisement for Student Body events. These four have lead you through what we think has been a year to be mighty proud of.

JEAN NORDSTROM

EARL SCHMIDT

NANCY BRAND

Working with your Student Body Officers, the song and yell leaders have made your games and rallies more than just events—they have brought you in contact with the players. Your songs and yells have told the teams of your pride and faith in them and have made them fight for ole' Whittier High. Always cheerful, always peppy, always our leaders in enthusiasm, the song and yell leaders have been the symbol of our school spirit.

The A.S.B. Cabinet . . . ruling power of the school. Whether riding in a jeep through the quad to collect money for the March of Dimes, going to numerous conferences held at other schools, or working toward a youth center of our own, the cabinet has laughed and worked with all of us, during school and after. Always first to champion us, always first to lead us, they have been the backbone of our school.

The Rep Board is all important in our school government.

ADMINISTRATIVE ASSISTANTS

The eight administrative assistants who work with Mrs. Hodge are responsible for the fine management of every phase of our school life. Mrs. Cumberland and Mr. Douglas have acted as our deans and have capably and sympathetically guided those students who have needed help. Miss Macdonald has directed all student activities during the year while Mr. Throckmorton's position was that of Director of Attendance. Mr. Hunt had the responsible job of Business Manager and Miss Drake managed the student finance and cafeteria. Mrs. Jaques was of unlimited help as Coordinator of Counseling for students, while the adult education was handled by Mr. Wennerberg. Each and every one of this group is needed to run our huge school plant, and they have efficiently filled their positions.

For the fine execution of a difficult job, our praise and thanks go to these five.

When students have rooted through the files and left them in chaos, who straightens them? The secretaries! When seniors fly into the Guidance Office at the eleventh hour and want their transcripts sent off right away, who drops everything to accommodate them? The secretaries! Who keep the records, help the teachers, answer questions, put up with the staffs of the annual and C. and W., and perform many other indispensable services? Of course!! Those wonderful secretaries! We could not do without them.

SECRETARIES

MAINTENANCE

When hungry students storm the lunch stand and cafeteria and demand to be fed, Miss Drake's staff efficiently serves them with filling food. When the lawns and buildings need sprucing up, the men of the maintenance crew go into action. When students need transportation to and from school and games, the bus drivers go to work. A school as large as ours could not operate without these indispensable groups.

IN RETROSPECT . . . of the 46 classes of seniors who have come, seen, and conquered Whittier Union High School, of all the juniors who have finally made the grade, of the sophomores, rich with their new sense of belonging, and of all the green, frightened freshmen. The years have passed, the fads are different, but remnants of former years still remain with us. The seniors still sponsor Senior-Alumni Day; the juniors still hold the annual Junior-Senior Promenade, and the freshmen and sophomores have their dance and party. Even if some of our events were the same; if the past year seemed no different from the rest, to us it was changed, for WE were the ones to enjoy the year '46-'47 . . . it belonged to us . . . it was our year!

Sing a song of seniors . . . for the past three months that has been all we have been singing. For some reason, the seniors have always been the center of attraction on this ol' campus, but perhaps you underclassmen will find the secret when you are 12th graders. First the excitement started when they posed for the birdie for their senior pictures. At vocational assemblies, they started getting butterflies in their stomachs at the thought of COLLEGE and LIFE. As the end drew closer and closer, they put on their best clothes and best behavior for the Senior Mothers' Tea and the nostalgic Jr.-Sr. Promenade. Finally they walked down the aisle to the strains of Pomp and Circumstance and realized that they would never be back. But no matter how wonderful they have been, other senior classes will fill their places and we will have more wonderful years.

RICHARD HOLLOWAY

Richard has been outstanding in our dramatics department for four years and was the Ring Master for our Spotlight Revue "Under the Big Top." He has had the honor of being the winning speaker in the Lion's Club Speakers' Contest this year. He is an active member of the Senior Council and is a Senator.

BOB TRANQUADA

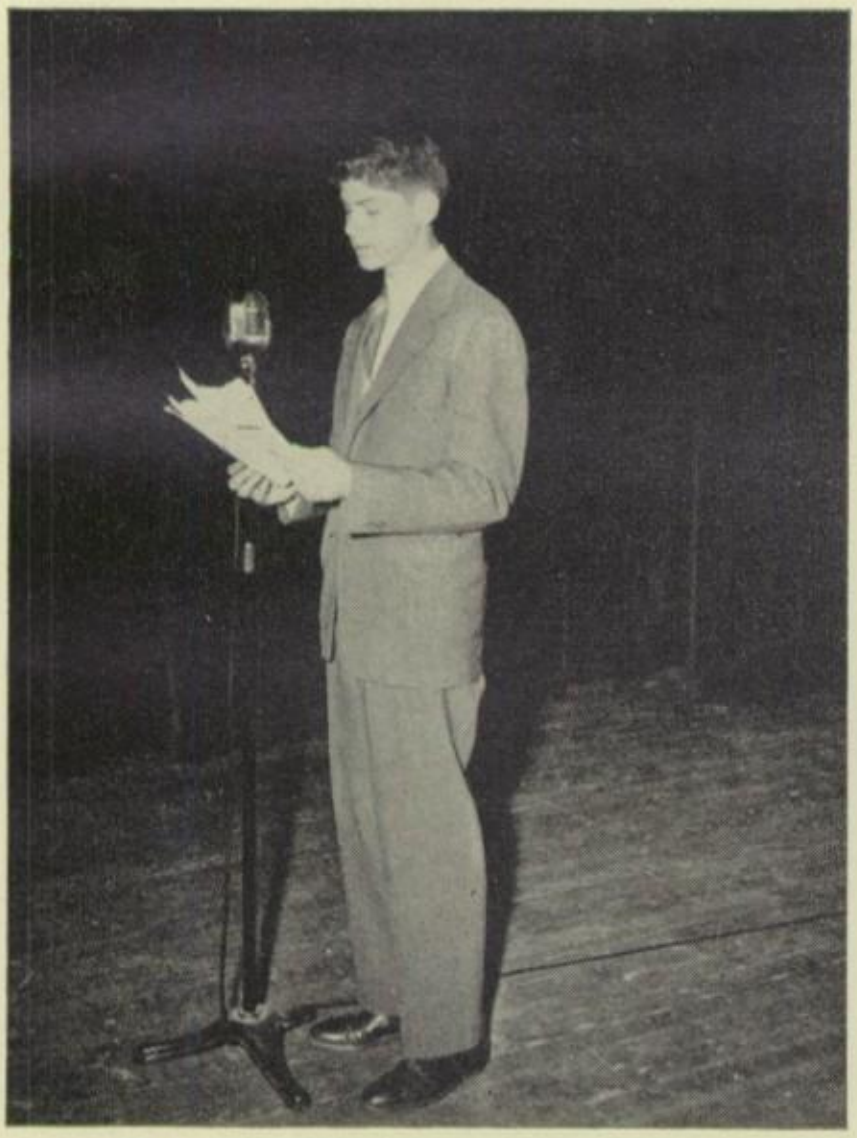
Bob has proved to be a capable A. S. B. president, an excellent tennis player, and one of our most outstanding scholars. He was not only outstanding in scholarship but an active member of the Latin Club and Science Club, and he played center on our football team.

NANCY BRAND

One of the peppiest members of the senior class, Nancy has been active in class councils, Girls' League, and the ever faithful Pep Club. Her biggest job in her high school career was being this year's A.S.B. Publicity Manager. She was one of those ambitious seniors and has certainly done her part.

JEAN NORDSTROM

Jean has been a participating member of the Pep Club, Scholarship Society, and class councils. In addition to these activities she is our present A. S. B. Secretary and previously has been Girls' League Secretary and Sergeant-at-Arms.



KEITH ALDRICH

Keith kept our football games rolling along, play by play, with his talented announcer's voice. In the Spring and Fall plays he held outstanding parts. Student councils and Pep Club have taken up part of his time. He has been a Senator and also a delegate at Boys' State.

RED HERBENER

What would the football and the basketball team have done without Red this year? He has also been active and loyal in many other school functions. His job on class councils and serving as a Senator were well fulfilled. Senior class presidency also gave Red great renown.

JOYCE LUSK

As Sophomore Social Chairman, Joyce helped plan one of the best Freshman-Sophomore dances. This year she is senior secretary and has been a member of the class councils. She is one of those seniors who will really be missed next year.

MITZI REICHLING

As well as being this year's Girls' League President, Mitzi has also been outstanding in the Latin Club, Pep Club, and the Scholarship Society. She has shown her ability in writing by being a member of the C. & W. staff. She is an active member of the Representative Board and Cabinet.

JOANNE GAYLORD

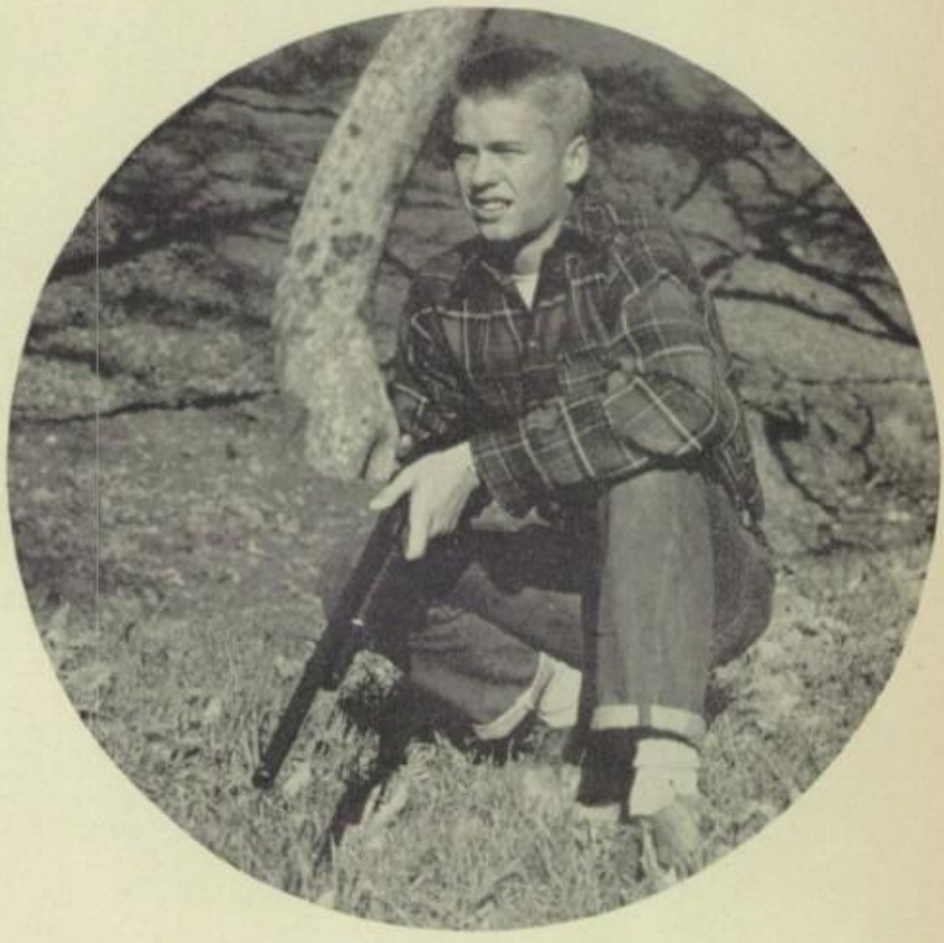
As Girls' League Vice-President Joanne helped put over a wonderful Girls' League Dance this year. She is also one of the Cardettes and a member of the World Friendship Club. Joanne also deserves much credit for our successful Hi-Jinks this year.

JOAN McNEILLY

What has Joan accomplished in four years? Plenty! She is G.A.A. President, Editor of this year's Cardinal, and Latin Club President. She is a four year member of the Scholarship Society also. Joan deserves all the credit she has received during her high school career.

CHRIS MARKEY

Chris has given his whole-hearted support to school spirit and many successful activities. He is remembered as freshman class yell leader, and an outstanding sophomore president. As for his athletic capabilities, he was captain of our winning basketball team and has played J. V. baseball and varsity football. He has been on the scholarship society for four years.



FRED MYATT

Fred's main interest in high school seemed to be that third base position on our baseball team. Senior activities this year were successful with his help as Vice Prexy. He was also one of those well known Senators.

DICK ERMIGARAT

This year's Pep Club was especially lucky in having Dick as its president. He not only contributed to school spirit, but did his part in pushing this year's baseball team to victory. Being a member of his class councils as well as serving as a Senator also kept him busy.

The junior class under the capable leadership of Bob Chaney, Shirley Collins, Margie Moon, Irene Thompson, and an excellent council has made its presence felt around the ol' campus. The year was filled with such activities as presenting the Fall Play, "Big Hearted Herbert," and sponsoring a booth at the carnival. Then came the best social event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom. With three years of experience behind them the juniors are looking forward to an outstanding senior year with more fun and activities for everybody.

Boyce Jones plus Nancy Nordstrom plus Shirley Garman plus Cathie Moon plus a terrific council adds up to a successful year for the sophomore class. They started the year by having a great deal of good, clean competition for class offices. After electing officers their next big activity was the Freshman-Sophomore Dance which was a big success. Never ceasing their activities they followed through by winning the P.T.A. membership contest, for which they were rewarded with a movie. They completed the year by ordering their class rings. The sophs., or should we now say juniors, are looking forward to two more successful years in their high school history.

Every year there are bright, new faces around Whittier's campus to replace the old, tired ones of the seniors who have graduated. These are the Freshmen, who this year have proved that they are really worth watching in the future. Under the leadership of Chuck Campbell, Jim Walsh, Nancy Porter, Majora Gauldin, and Esther Irving, the Freshmen Talent Show was presented. The class also helped to make the Freshmen-Sophomore Dance a real success. These peppy freshmen entered into the spirit of the Carnival by sponsoring a booth. The next three years of high school will profit by the activities of the ambitious class of '50.

IN RETROSPECT . . . our campus activites loom large on the horizon of the past year. All important in our school life, our clubs and organizations have offered every kind of activity and entertainment for all occasions. Banquets, Christmas parties, annual plays . . . our old clubs sponsored these. New clubs have provided fascinating hobbies in photography, radio work, and agriculture. School spirit reached a new high in '46-'47 as was proved by our roaring pep rallies, crowded dances, and wonderful noons in the quad. How did they rate with you? We think they were swell!

Then the writing of copy was be-

Bette Schoff, our art editor, in a quiet corner with her India ink, and much imagination and patience, designed the page borders; then mounted the pictures and copy. These pages were then ready for the engraver.
By April 15, the book had gone to press. Miss Jones, our adviser,

ASB COUNCIL

Officers

This group, the most democratic organization on our campus, is made up of one representative elected from each basic course class to serve for the year. School problems and plans for the coming months' activities are discussed at the meetings of the council, which are held the last Friday of each month. Also reports are given by committee representatives and Associated Student Body Officers. The information on topics discussed and reported on is taken back to each basic course class.

GUIDES and GUARDS

One of the most energetic organizations on the campus, the Cardinal Guides, functions seven hours a day and five days a week. These loyal students give up their study halls to serve the school in various offices, the Library, and the Gymnasiums. Their duties are to deliver all types of slips and to help with such other tasks as are assigned to them. For their service to the school service points are given. When a student has earned enough service points, he is awarded a medal. This year the Guides are again under the competent direction of Mrs. Cumberland, our Dean of Girls.

Crepe paper decorating goal posts and grandstands, red and white megaphones pinned to "T" shirts and sweaters, noon rallies and our valiant pep band are the ever present reminders of that hard working group, the Pep Club. This year, under the leadership of Dick Ermigarat, Mr. McCartney, Mr. Saxton, and Mr. Weeks, they have contributed to the school spirit that has sent our teams to many victories.

Sweet violins, clear woodwinds, mellow bass viols, and expert direction all blend together to produce an orchestra such as the advanced Whittier High School Orchestra. Ever improving since the return of Mr. John Chickanzeff, director, it has provided harmonious music for school plays, assemblies, the Spring Concert, and Commencement.

Striving eagerly to become a part of the advanced orchestra, members of the Preparatory Band practice hours on end with the hope of being promoted. Experience acquired in the prep band produces accomplished players for the advanced orchestra, while the rewards for three and four years membership in the orchestra are the much coveted bronze and silver pins. Whether playing Chopin or Berlin, the W.U.H.S. Orchestra has provided music supreme.

"Music hath charms" or so the saying goes. Such music has been provided by the Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs with the aid of Mr. Manville Saxton, Mr. Ralph Petty, and Mr. Ernest Hemmerling, directors. The humorous Minstrel Show, put on by the Boys' Glee Club, furnished the Student Body with barrels of laughs and chuckles. Both Glee Clubs combined to produce fine harmony for the Spring Concert and Christmas play. Special commendation goes to Madora Morash, accompanist, for her fine work at the piano and organ.

Those busy little girls in green, who scurry up and down the aisles and pass out programs, seem to be constantly on the job. They seat the audiences at forums, plays, concerts, the Spotlight Revue, Commencement, and many other school affairs. All those who complied with this year's requirements of three "A's", one "C", and no grade lower than a "C" were eligible to apply for membership. Thursdays at Eight

Reorganized two years ago, the Bible Club has now a well established place on the campus. Meetings are held once every two weeks. At these meetings reverent songs are sung, and talks are given both by Missionary speakers and students of the club. The members of the Bible Club were indeed sad when Mrs. Smith, their popular adviser, retired in February to take up duties in her home in Texas. Members of the Bible Club ever strive to live up to their motto Romans 1:16, "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth; to the Jew first, and also to the Greek."

FOTO METERS

This year we are proud to introduce a new club, the Foto-Meters of W.U.H.S. The purpose of this newly formed club is to promote interest in photography and to improve photographic ability. The Foto-Meters sponsored the exhibit of the First Annual National High School Photographic Awards and a Snap-Shot Contest for members of the club. Meetings were held on the first and third Mondays. During meetings talks were given on the different phases of photography by members of the club and also by outside speakers. Advisers of the club were Miss Timmerman, an ardent camera enthusiast herself, and Mr. Hemmerling.

This has been a full year for Girls' League with Mitzi Reichling, the capable president, directing affairs, and with the guidance and help of Miss Charles, the adviser. This year "Up in the Attic" was the theme of the most hilarious Hi-Jinx the League has presented in years. "Arabian Nights" was the mystic background for the annual Girls' League Dance.

IN RETROSPECT . . . we've a right to be proud of our school's sports. Our pigskin eleven was one of the best in several years and brought us many victories backed by our faith and spirit. Our basketball teams filled the gym with loyal Cards and Cardettes to cheer them on to better playing for W. U. H. S. Flashing red sweaters graced our local heroes, and the Lettermen's Club proved to be one of the best in school. The G. A. A. really showed itself in a big way with a larger membership than ever, and a tremendous "W" Wearers' Club. That's why we say, "Hats off to the Athletic Departments!"

The Crimson Tide did a splendid job during the last football season. Beaten to their knees only twice and tied once, they finished third in the League. Inspired coaching by "Corkey" Cochran and Don Cole plus brilliant playing on the part of the team added up to a most successful season.

ASSOCIATION

THE ADVISERS, untiringly, have tried to make G.A.A. a better and more interesting organization for those who participate. Miss J. Ford, Mrs. R. Smith, Miss P. Strathairn, Mrs. P. Chapman, and Miss M. Withrow.

THE CUP tradition which started in 1928, was followed by the first playday which took place March 2, 1929. Those persons who participated regularly for four years have earned the honor of having their names put on the plaque in the Girls' Gym.

THE "W" WEARERS are those girls who have earned credit in at least ten sports. They are then eligible for a "W" and one stripe on their sweaters. The second stripe is won after credit is earned in five additional sports.

HOCKEY

Ouch!—The whistle blows!—and yes, somebody has scored. The teams had a busy job this season keeping the ball moving down the field. This year, above all, there has been great team work.

DANCING

Running, twirling, and whirling, many girls have enthusiastically danced through another interesting G.A.A. season. The wearers of those blue leotards have been seen doing every conceivable step in that popular sport known as dancing.

ARCHERY

Cupid has done it again—yes those bull's-eyes have really taken a beating this year. In spite of a few broken bows and arrows it has been a "bang up" season.

IN RETROSPECT . . .gay dances, orchestras, sweet and hot, jive records, crowded cloakrooms, empty coke bottles, expensive flowers . . . all have made our society and night life more impressive and delightful than ever. The exotic Girls' League Dance, "Arabian Nights", thrilled both boys and girls with the really fine music of the Teen-Agers. The long awaited Prom in honor of the seniors made them realize that they were soon to be leaving for good. Like a faded gardenia, the fragrance and beauty of the past year will linger with us for many years to come.

One of Whittier's most outstanding and newest shops is Tisdale's. Here are shown some of their beautiful wall murals. Go in soon to look around.

"Hey, stop! Don't take all my share!" Claire Hendershot and Red Herbener divide a coke at Bower's Drugs. Jim Kemp looks on.

"Careful there, Betty, don't drop it!" Ann Larkin and Betty Knox look over some figurines at Larkin's home. You can find icons like these at the Gray Gift Shop.

One of Swain and Nanney's most able representatives uses the huge map of Whittier to illustrate his point in a talk with Joan McNeilly.

Trying to fix a Buick are Frank Ray, Josh Wilson, and Ralph Nieblas but, of course, they cannot begin to compare with the wonderful mechanics at McAllister Motors.

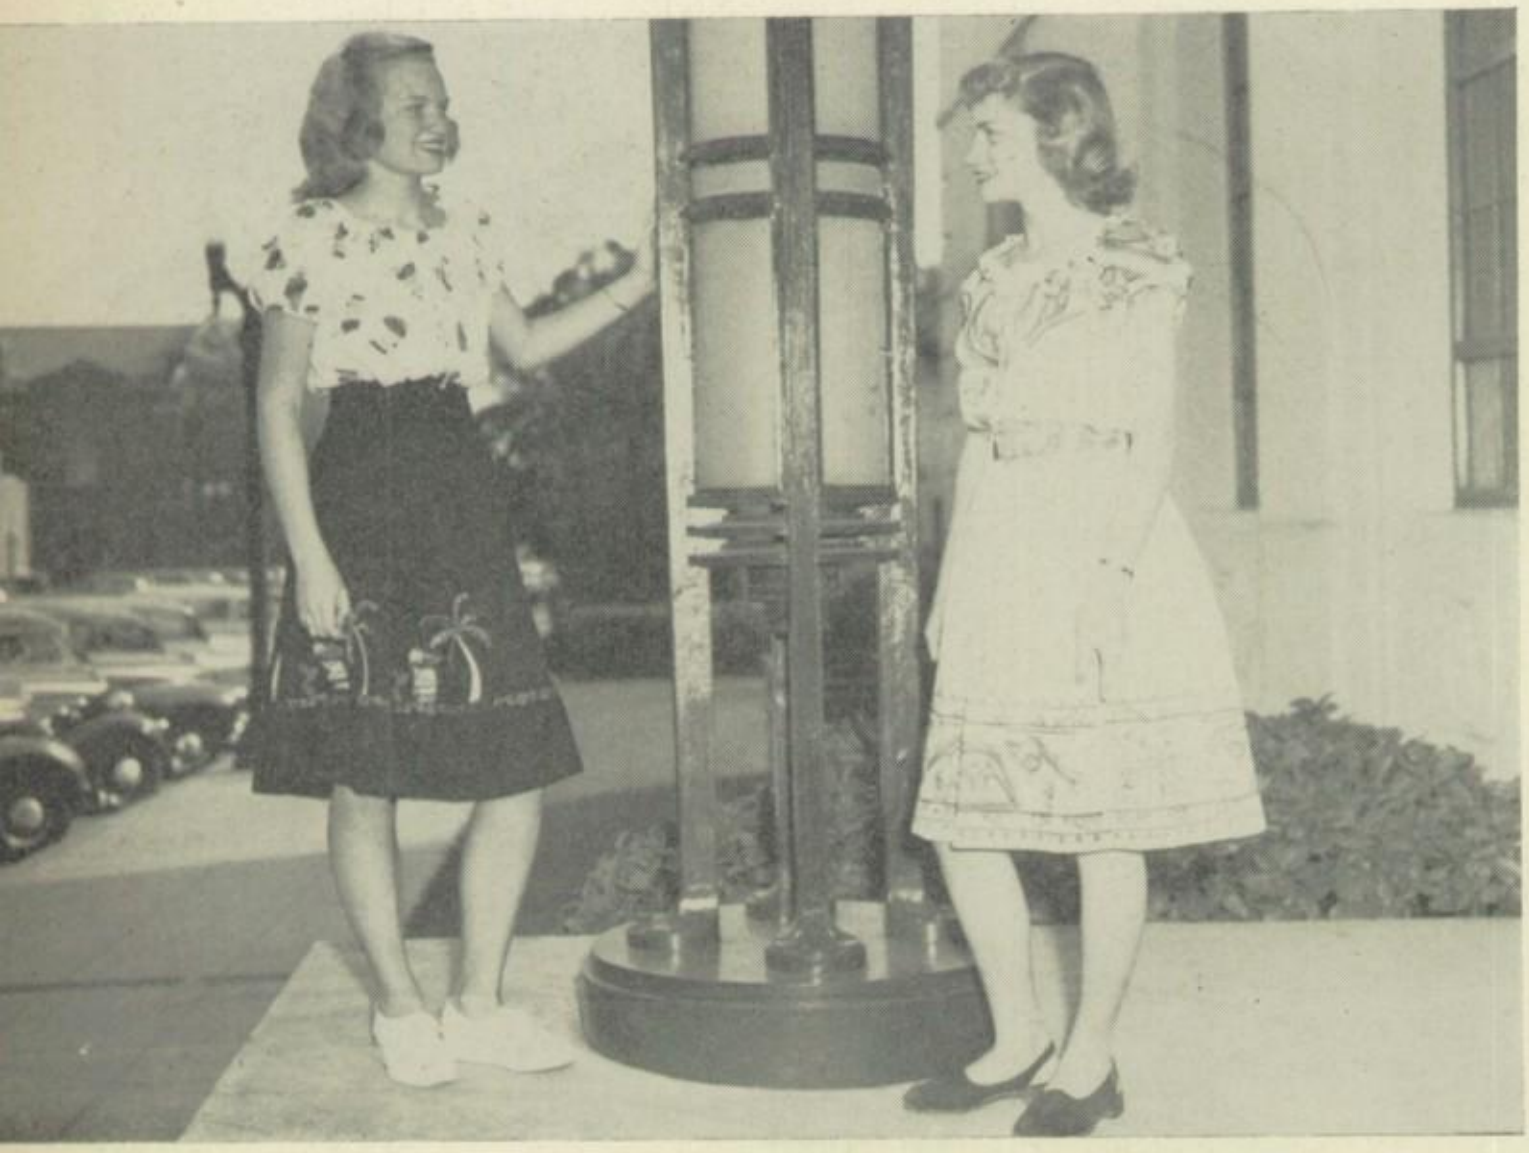
Richard Harris is eyeing the delicious food and delicious Beverly Jones, too. This appetizing food can be found at Icy-Fare.

Carroll Ulrich got Julie Gilbert a pretty corsage for the Prom at Malins. If you want your girl to look at you the way Julie is looking at Carroll, call the flowerphone. Try it sometime.

Joyce Phegley, Maxine Funk, and Jackie Jenkins look over the vast array of "things to make you beautiful" to be found at V & M's Cosmetic Bar.

Some of the kids who buy those smart looking shoes from Greenwood's are Bob Greaves, Bev Saunders, Bob Chaney, Rosie Smith, Wilbur Barmore, and Sue Aldrich.

Sooo big and sooo little! Those popular saddle shoes are seen all over the place. Here we have Bev Putnam and Bill Hammer in the quad. Get yours at Douglas Shoe Store.



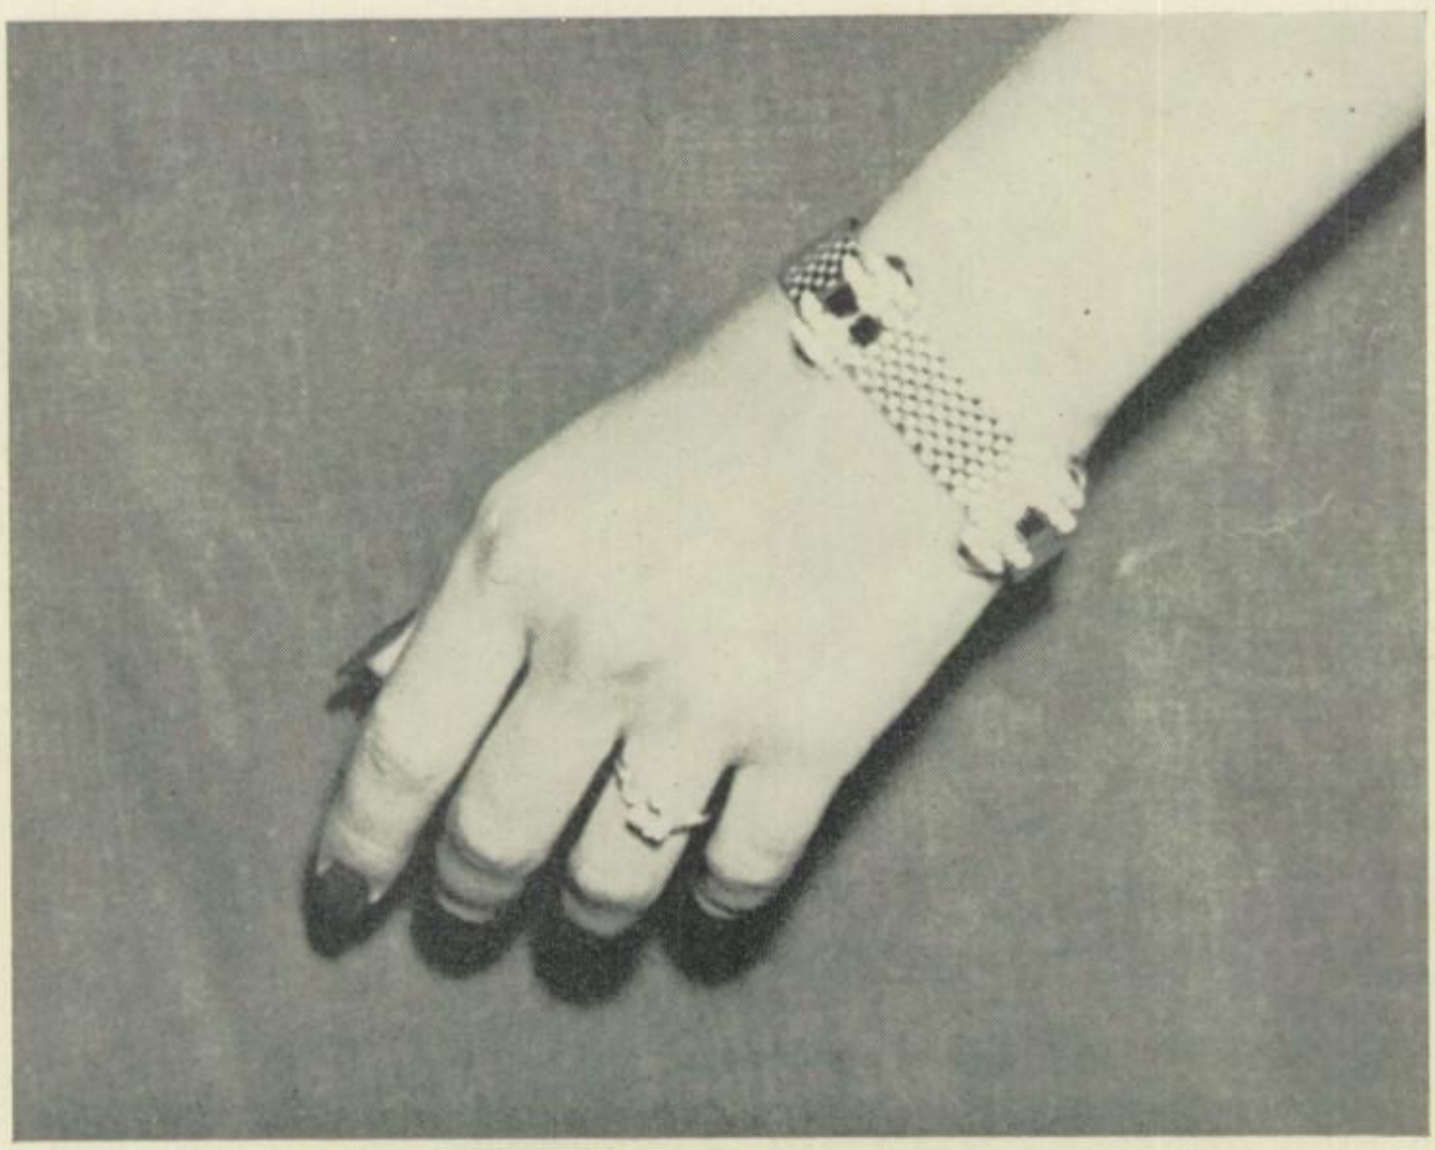
Those cute Anderson sisters, Eina and Enid, pause before the Post Office in some good lookin' clothes from the Shepard Shop.

"Hey, I don't want to go in!" Sally Martin and Joann Gingles try to convince Joan Callahan otherwise. They all got their darling "sun-lover" outfits at Ballard and Brockett.

Outstanding athletes like Verdon Mengel and Paul Bryeans buy their equipment at Whittier Sporting Goods.

F. Warde Brand is helping Rod Hills and Dick Hoover take out car insurance. Other kinds of insurance and real estate can be taken care of here too.

Hey, what's so funny? How about letting us in on it?



Umm, beautiful! You, too, can make your hands look like this. Try some gorgeous jewelry from King's as Nancy Conley does.

Dick Kepple finds a telephone handy when he gets the urge to talk to Bette, Bette Schoff that is.

Notice that intent look on Colette Chalfant's face. She's reading one of the many books that can be found at the Whittier Book Store.

Dressy or sport, you can take your pick at Tibbetts'. Here Molly Madden, Joan Farland, Katherine Stoll, and Betty Osborne illustrate as they pause before the Aud.

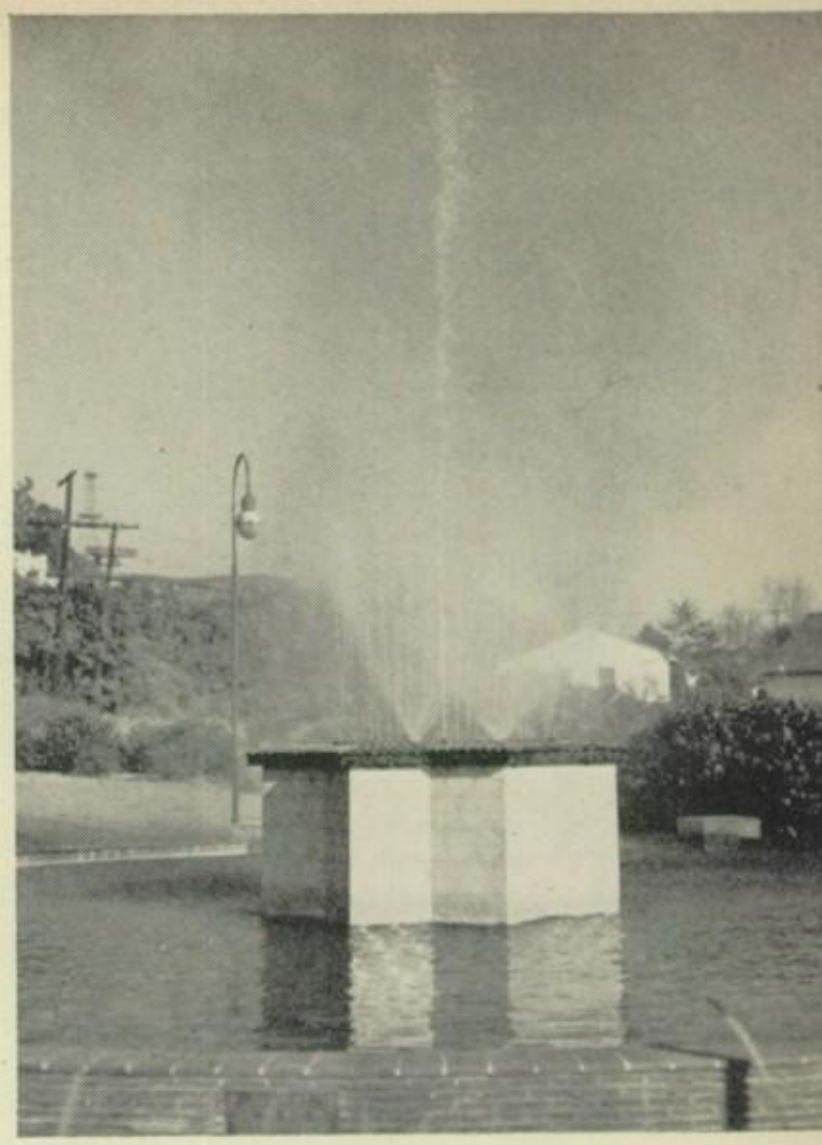
Here are Randy Kent and Shirley Garman looking into the future. To insure their bright future, they are putting their money and bonds into the vaults of Quaker City Federal Savings and Loan.

Myers certainly has a variety of clothes. Look at Pat McNeilly and Joan Archer in their selections.

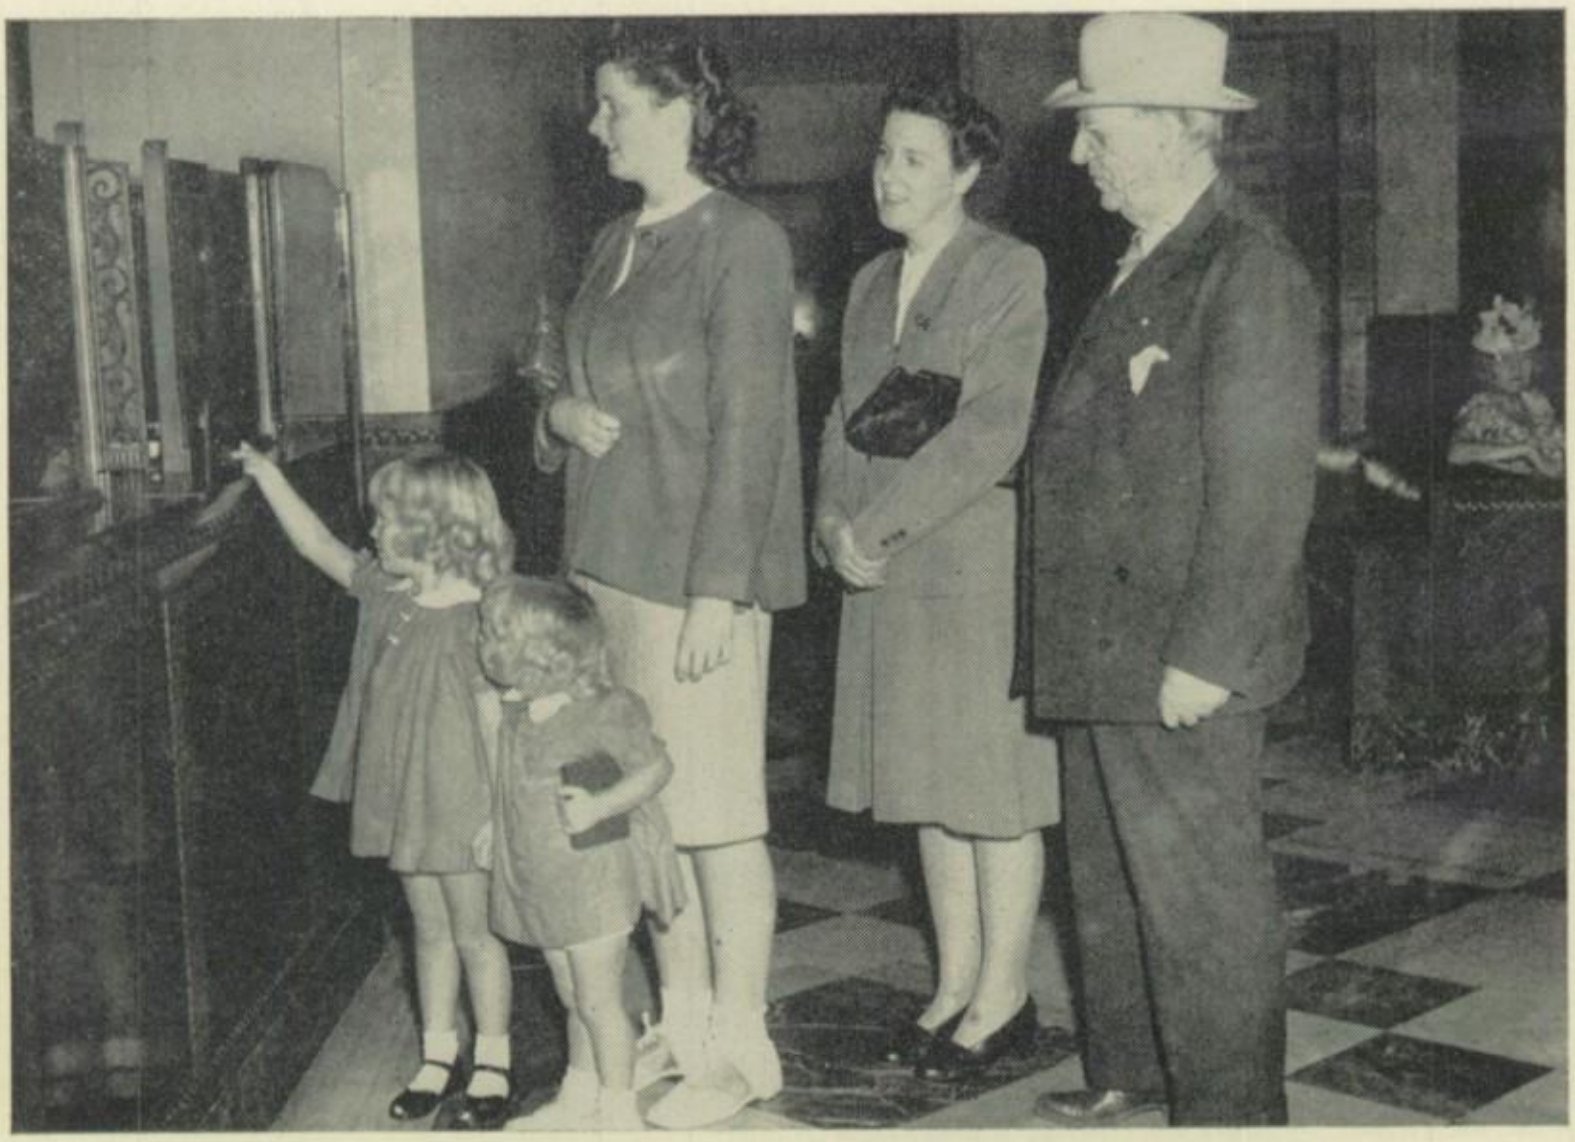
One way to exercise is to try washing by hand. Jeanne Boss and Beverly Ringland seem to be having trouble. You girls better send your clothes to the Whittier Laundry and get really good results.

Everybody knows what wonderful entertainment a show is. The Whittier Theatre is shown here with Sue Dawson, Bob Lowry, Roberta Orr, and Vic Roebuck waiting to go in.

Because this shop is a new addition to Whittier, we have taken a picture of the building. In case you haven't recognized it, this store is Stoppel's Store for Boys.



The fountain, one of Whittier's beauty spots which are so ably advertised by our hardworking Chamber of Commerce.



Little Melody and Gerry Lyn Allen hug their piggy banks while Barbara Mallory looks on to be sure they put their money safely into Whittier National Trust and Savings Bank.

Well, well, something new has been added. C. Orin Swain has a new office. Lora Arnold and Connie MacLean give it their approval.

If you want to fix your fella' a super dinner, try the handy electrical appliances from K. D. Miller's. Marilyn Wittersheim trys them here.

The Whittier Building and Loan has some very interesting pictures which Joan McNeilly and Joanne Gaylord look at. Besides this, they have a very good lending system if you want to build.

Mary Jane Schaufelberger, Wendy Eckerman, and Sally Ervin try their luck at bookkeeping. Earl Myers finds that his own staff is much better for keeping up his standards of good business.

GREENLEAF AT BAILEY

Aha! Here we find Dean Swift and Chuck Larkin admiring each other in their snazzy new jackets and slacks from Hill's Clothiers.

Looking over our campus are Janet Beam, Barbara Fry, and Mary Lee Hughes in their all year 'round styles from Penney's.

Poor Bill, (Harrison, that is) needs a new lawnmower. Jimmie Kemp knows that Farmers Hardware has a wide selection of garden tools which he uses and has time to spare.

"Some Sunday Morning" we find Fred Hanson, Roy Pendergraft, and Doug Ostman going in the Friends Church. Say, don't they look fine? They got their good looking clothes at Smith-Horseman.

Remar's Monterey Shop has styles from the centers of fashion as modeled by Shirley Calkins, Jo Howe, and Charlotte Smith.

Arthur MacNeil has decided to add to the appearance of Whittier by putting a new front on his office. Looks swell, doesn't it?
